Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

"You may discontinue my want ad. It brought quick response," says Mrs. Percival J. Parris. The expense was 25c.

"Old Bird" of Stow: "Let it go as an accident. I don't feel a bit puffed up over folding letter-paper correctly."

Thirty-five years ago today, Thursday, May 9th, the big fire in Norway started at 2:20 o'clock in the afternoon. O. H. Haskell of Sweden was paying his subscription when the whistle sounded. Much confusion followed in the next three hours.

WHEN MILDRED SINGS
The pleasant when the lumps are lit before the fire, the fire is lit. While Mildred sings a song. Her voice is deep with cadence and soul. The words are the words of a song. Drills out of doors the snowflakes fall. And winds are singing.

We want the items and are not over fussy about the way the sheets are folded. If we get the news. Send it in and fold the sheets as you see fit. There is a right and a wrong way, but it seems funny that our schools do not teach the way it should be done.

"I made a mistake," said "Old Bird" when playing for Dr. Bradley, "when I, I plastered him so he had to buy a new suit of clothes. Next time I'll fix him so no peddler will dare call for a split shot. I can't find my rubber boots."

From Plainfield, N. J., comes the first answer to our recently proposed question as to who is the shortest man mentioned in the Bible: "Who is the shortest man mentioned in the Bible?"

Now that is the question which was asked one day at the dinner table when we were at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Brown Sherburne, of Portland. In Breton, April 27, by Rev. W. D. Bach, of Breton, Wilbur Libby and Nellie Barrett of Hartford.

The Lark Bros. and several painters are working on the Lark store into condition for the coming season. The store is being redecorated and the new paint is being put on. The store is being redecorated and the new paint is being put on. The store is being redecorated and the new paint is being put on.

Miss L. W. Waiter, who lives with her brother, Owen, at Mechanic Falls, was in town, Friday. Philip Wallace King has a Ford coupe business trips to Lewiston and fishing excursions to country every day. J. Freeland Bolster had a bad spell the other day and hastily sent for the doctor. Somehow in some way he could breathe. He suffered no pain he says.

Eugene Lebroke, who has been rebuilding the shed on the rear of his house, has extended the repairs and is building a sun porch along the easterly and south-easterly sides. Not less than two hundred automobiles were parked along Main Street, Friday night and kept Officer Charles Coffin busy handling traffic. The occasion for this congestion was the Legion minstrel and dance.

Raymond C. Dunham is preparing to open his new place opposite the fair grounds, to be known as Dunham's Filling Station and Radio Headquarters. The building has one large room, the front being for tires and auto accessories with a large stock of radios and speakers and work room in the rear. Five pumps will service three kinds of gas, two pumps are the electric variety. The building sets well back from the road with three approaches to the tanks and abundant room for parking. Plenty of lights will attract trade.

Child Health Day Observed Friday Afternoon—Nursing Notes—Six and Seven Point Children. Plans have been made to observe Friday, May 10, at Child Health Day. A demonstration of infant care will be given at 2 p. m. in the window of Fred S. Brown's store. At 2:30 a demonstration in bed-making will be given by the High School girls in the Norway Buick window. At 3 o'clock a parade of all the school children will be formed at the high school building and march up Main Street and down to the Rex Theatre where special movies will be shown. Those who are six and seven point will wear a white cap with a blue star, while those who have had dental corrections made will have special mention.

Much bedside nursing has been done during the month. A total of 62 bedside calls to 12 patients. Home calls other than bedside were 83, including follow up visits to school children, instructive and miscellaneous cases. The nurse attended one delivery. Office calls attended to were 41. Fees collected were $47. The classes in home nursing are making good progress. Only 4 more lessons to be held in the adult class. The high school girls meet four mornings a week from 10:35 to 11:15 and in this way will complete the course before the close of school. 13 classes were held during the month.

At the 4 well baby conferences, the attendance was 68: 11 babies, 14 pre-school children and 10 school children. 29 underweight children came to the office for weighing. Dental Honor Rolls have been put in nearly all of the schools. Grade II, taught by Mrs. Rowe, has earned the 50 per cent clean mouth certificate; one-half of the children have had necessary dental work done and brought their certificates from the dentist. We hope some of the other schools may earn these before the close of school. Six and Seven Point pupils to date are:

Upper Primary, Grade I—Robert Easton, Robert Martin, Stanley Tyndall, Robert Sessions, Donald Glines, Marian Veneis, Mary Greenlaw, Pauline Hamner, Richard Schenk, Elmer Evers. Grade XII—Constance Young, Ruth Russell, Charles Russell, Ruth Russell, Harold Adkins, Charles Russell, Virginia Anderson, Fred Ernestine Hutchins, Paul Allen. Grade XIII—Lucille Frost, Six Points—Robert Gammam, Alan Gammam, Stanley Frost, Martha Foster, Vernon Avery, Philip Wright, William Evers. Grade XIV—Constance Fogg, Francis Andrews, Elmer Evers, Robert Bickford, Charles Fogg, Robert Glines. Six Points—Alice Hemmingsway, Marie Prince, Grace T. Fogg, Frances Bartlett, David Greenlaw, Elmer Aldrich, Natalie Goodwin, Sherman Gammam, Keith Cole, E. Knox Bickford, Glen Russell.

Miss Miriam Pike of Boston spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Pike. Mrs. Leon Lapham is making a good recovery from surgery at Dr. Leighton's hospital, in Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Irving Raymond and Miss Helen Richardson spent the week end with relatives in Portland.

CLEAN UP AND THEN SOME. Thus far Harry Lovejoy's clean-up week is meeting success. About five cart loads of rubbish have been collected and hauled to the public dump every day, showing that Norway is getting the habit of clearing back yards and cellars. Citizens on the whole have been prompt in getting the rubbish to a convenient place near the sidewalk, for the first trip of the collector.

The route for Friday and Saturday covers Paris Street to Main Street and all Lower Main Street section. Getting boxes, barrels, bags and other containers to the road line will speed up and help Ed Anderson and Frank Estes, who are doing the work.

ARTICLES SOON TO APPEAR. In the near future, the following articles will appear in the Norway Advertiser: "School Costs and Income in Maine," "Ted and Dave on Red Star Ranch" by Irene Coffin; "Old Bill Says" by William H. Sanborn of Stony Pottery" by Winnie Gray Curtis of North Bridgton. "Ancient Maple Going Strong" from facts about Sugar—History of a Norway maple. "Ways of Doing in Norway" by Harry Perrault, a Norway boy with the United States Marines.

Donald B. Partridge was the principal speaker at the Kiwanis Club luncheon at Kears Falls, Monday evening. Mrs. B. S. Rideout and daughter, Miss Edith Rideout, who have been living at 152 Harvard St., Newtonville, Mass., have recently moved to 11 Simpson Terrace, Newtonville, Mass.

Arthur Hubbard: "It was 15 years ago today (May 2) Chas. L. Hathaway died. It don't seem that long." Mrs. Linnie Parker, who has spent the winter with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Parker, in South Portland, is with her daughter, Mrs. A. W. Easton and family.

The racing comedy, "The Prince of Liars" given some weeks ago in the Universalist vestry and repeated at Bethel, is to be presented by the same cast at Rumford Center, May 24. Dwight Kilgore, 27 Danforth St., has an overcoat that doesn't belong to him. A person by mistake, or design, exchanged overcoats in the dressing room at the Opera House, Friday evening, and Dwight had the small end of the trade. As the garments are not alike, it is believed the coat was deliberately taken from the hook.

Three novels by Hugh Pendexter, the Norway author, have been published by William Collins & Sons of London, England, for their spring list. His American publishers, Bobbs-Merrill Co., have recently produced "The Gate Through the Mountain" which is winning many favorable comments. "We don't go fast, but we start," was "Mickey" Welch's cheerful message Monday morning. The expression was a rebound from the outburst of trial races on the lake Sunday, for four shells were nearly swamped in a rough sea kicked up during a surprise gale. Mickey was doing his stuff in the eight-foot "Out-Craft" along with Allie Noble, Don Wood and a Portland racer. All four crafts went down because high waves soaked the motors and several were towed ashore. Everett and Wilma McNally of Auburn were guests of their sister, Mrs. E. W. Konstantin, while appearing in their dancing act for the American Legion, Thursday and Friday evenings. The young performers resided in Norway a few years ago and had many of their former playmates in the front seats during the show. For six weeks the past winter the tap dancers were featured on the Keith Circuit in an act similar to one presented at the minstrels.

Arrangements are practically completed for Grand Orient Night on May 22, when the well known degree team of Mechanic Falls will instruct a large class. Supper will be served in the American Legion dining room after which a parade will be featured, ending at Norway Opera House where the ceremonial will be held. Not less than fifty candidates are expected. Large delegations are expected from Lewiston, Auburn, Mechanic Falls, Oxford, South Paris, Watford and other towns within easy motoring distance. The local committee is doing the thing right.

After Reading Some Of My Stuff

My friends jokingly tell me that I could make more money writing ads than I can running a repair shop. Now this ad writing is no joke, but I am not so sure but perhaps my friends are right, because if I get as much out of this ad writing as it costs me to get them printed, that will be some income.

Of course we never have done much repairing along these lines, but if you have some Crooked, Bent or Broken Down Ads, Sermons, Public Speeches, After-Dinner Talks, or anything along that line that aren't working right, bring them in, we have repaired darn near everything else and perhaps we can get them into running order.

- BUT -

Just now, we are repairing Auto Bodies, Fenders, Frames, etc., and installing some auto glass.

Show this to Mother and Dad

CROWD around while I whistle the patter on a swell new stunt. A nickel is all it's gonna cost now to get the most elegant ice cream that ever slid over a regular guy's tongue. I've fixed it up with the Fro-joy fellows to put it in cups with my picture on 'em, so you can't go wrong. And every friend of mine is goin' to collect the lids, that have different pictures of me with Uncle Louie's Nephew and a bunch of other straight little shooters. Grab a nickel off of somebody quick, and hunt up a store that sells 'em.

NORWAY VICINITY

Mayflowers seem to be unusually large and beautiful in most places this spring.

Willard Berry and Francis Millett are working with their trucks on the road, carrying gravel.

J. Oron Back and brother, Julian R. Back, of 25 Falmouth Street, Portland, were visitors at the Wearies one day last week.

Several farmers are putting in their supply of fertilizer and making preparations for planting. It seems a cold, late spring, yet the grass looks very well and is growing nicely and prospects look good to turn cattle out to pasture sometime in the near future.

"A rainbow at night is sailors' delight."

On Sunday afternoon, at sunset, a most beautiful rainbow, reaching nearly across the sky, made a glorious sight to behold. The many brilliant colors which go to make a rainbow, shone out very clearly and lasted some time and a shadow one nearby was plainly seen. The sun shone very brightly through an opening in a heavy bank of clouds just as it was setting in the west, after what looked to be a terrific shower in the distance, and the beautiful rainbow came soon after, and we hope it indicates fair weather to follow.

Truth or Flattery, Which?

Dr. Long of Stamford, Conn. Has Kind Words for the Advertiser

"There is a fascination in that breezy sheet of yours which I find it hard to explain. Perhaps the answer is, that you hold steadfast to the ideal of a local paper, being the only editor of my acquaintance who has discovered the gold mine of human interest which is hidden in every American community. Other local papers, alleged, can be read in two minutes, skipping the tasteless rubbish of world news and the senseless mulligan of canned stuff. When a stray copy of the Advertiser comes in my mail, I spend a happy half hour getting acquainted with my neighbors in towns of which I never before heard. That they reveal themselves as good neighbors is the unflattering charm of your paper."

"Now here's an item to make you grin, if you happen to remember that I once told you my intention to have a canoe built on new lines, with a bit of the stern cut off to accommodate an outboard motor."

"The grin comes in when I add that I was careful to tell no one else of my intention. For, as you may have observed, whenever the man of the house gets a new thing for himself, he must straightway balance the budget by getting new things for all others of the household. Such are family joys. I kept this canoe to myself, as I thought, to forestall the inevitable demand for a new radio, a new automobile, a new electric ice machine, and other such necessities of the poor. What a coward is man!"

"Well, a little later I heard one of my children telling her mother, 'Daddy's going to have a new canoe. Now we can go to Europe.' When I wrote to a Maine canal at Moosehead, part of the answer which came back was, 'We see that you are going to have a new canoe.' When I went to see my sister, who lives in my old home town in Massachusetts, she said, 'Now that you are going to have a canoe, I shall feel better when I think of you out on that big lake alone.' Then from various manufacturers in the Middle West came letters, saying in effect, 'We note with pleasure that you are building a special canoe for use with an outboard motor. In the enclosed catalogue please find our Model X, which is warranted to take you where the fish will bite and bring you home in time for supper.'"

"Evidently your local paper is not as strictly local in its appeal as you think. Already I have bought a new radio to balance that canoe; and the end is not yet. Lucky for me that a heap of my little secrets did not get into the Advertiser. More power to it, and to you!"

Freemont Collidge Dead—Grange Gave Play—Club and Farm Bureau Activities.

The death of Freemont Collidge occurred at his home on Forest Avenue in Virginia, Wednesday afternoon, May 1, after a week's illness with pneumonia and complications. Mr. Collidge, who was in his fifty-second year, was the son of Quincy and Harriet Collidge and came to Rumford forty years ago. He was a member of the Lions' Club, the Rumford Shrine Club, the Strathglass Commandery, the Blazing Star Lodge, F. & A. M., and the Mettallus Lodge, U. E. K. P. Surviving are his wife, Margaret Haines Collidge; a son, Eugene; three daughters, Harriet, wife of Alfred McAnson; Elizabeth and Pauline Collidge; two grandsons, Donald and Freemont Collidge; a brother, George Collidge, all of Rumford, and a sister, Mrs. Effie Virgin, of St. Petersburg, Florida. Funeral services were held at the Virginia Chapel, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock and the Commandery services were carried out. Rev. T. B. Hatt of Dixfield officiated and burial was in the Denzies Cemetery at West Paris.

The Rumford Center Grange gave a play "Sunshine" at the Town Hall, Friday evening, May 3, with a supper earlier in the evening at the Grange Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Lovejoy serving as chairman of the supper committee and Isabelle French, chairman of the entertainment committee. The attendance was small, owing to the high water, which cut off transportation to Hanover and the south side of the river.

The Art Craft Club was entertained Thursday, May 2, by Mrs. Leroy Williams at her home on Prospect Avenue, in Virginia. A "tramp lunch" was enjoyed at noon and the work taken up was old fashioned patchwork.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pomeroy and son, Junior, of Waltham, Mass., visited their mother, Mrs. Nettie Freeman, and family, last week.

The South Rumford Community Club held a successful benefit May Ball at the Rumford Center Town Hall, Wednesday evening, May 1, with music by Billy Ross' orchestra.

The Farm Bureau ladies met with Mrs. Zenas Morse in Virginia, Wednesday, May 1. Chair seating was the subject and several old fashioned basket bottom chairs were worked on. A basket lunch was held at noon, with hot rolls and frankfurts furnished by the hostess.
